ALL EUROPE HANGS ON NEXT MOVE OF TURKS

New Regime Trying to Tangle
Skein of Complicated Affairs Which Threaten Destruction of Nation

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A rumor was current in London, Paris and Berlin today to the effect that the sultan of Turkey had been dethroned and a republic proclaimed. There was no confirmation of the rumor anywhere and it was generally discredited in official circles.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Some days must elapse before the situation arising from the revolution in Constantinople becomes clear. As far as may be judged there is no intention on the part of the new Turkish government to force matters or to resume hostilities if any reasonable compromise with the Balkan allies is possible.

A dispatch from Constantinople tonight says the council of ministers sat today to discuss the reply they will make to the note of the powers and it is believed that this reply, while insisting on the retention of Adrianople by Turkey, will point to Thursday's demonstrations as a real manifestation of the national will.

The new government is finding difficulty in filling the post of foreign minister. Developments in the situation are awaited throughout Europe with the greatest concern in view of possible active intervention by Russia.

Allies Decide to Wait.

The Balkan delegates have accepted the advice of the ambassadors of the powers to await the reply of the new Turkish government either to the ambassadors' note.

Some of the delegates maintain it is useless to wait longer in view of developments at Constantinople. Others say it is impossible for Enver Bey to be taken seriously.

They argue the Young Turks, who lost power owing to the absolute unpreparedness of the country under their regime in the war with Italy, cannot have the support of a majority of the people. Naturally the Young Turks, some of the delegates say, worked very hard to regain power. Their activity has been especially marked in the army, but it is not believed the bulk of the army is ready to support them and these delegates think it not impossible that a counter revolution will undo whatever was achieved by the Young Turks.

Some Favor Striking Now.

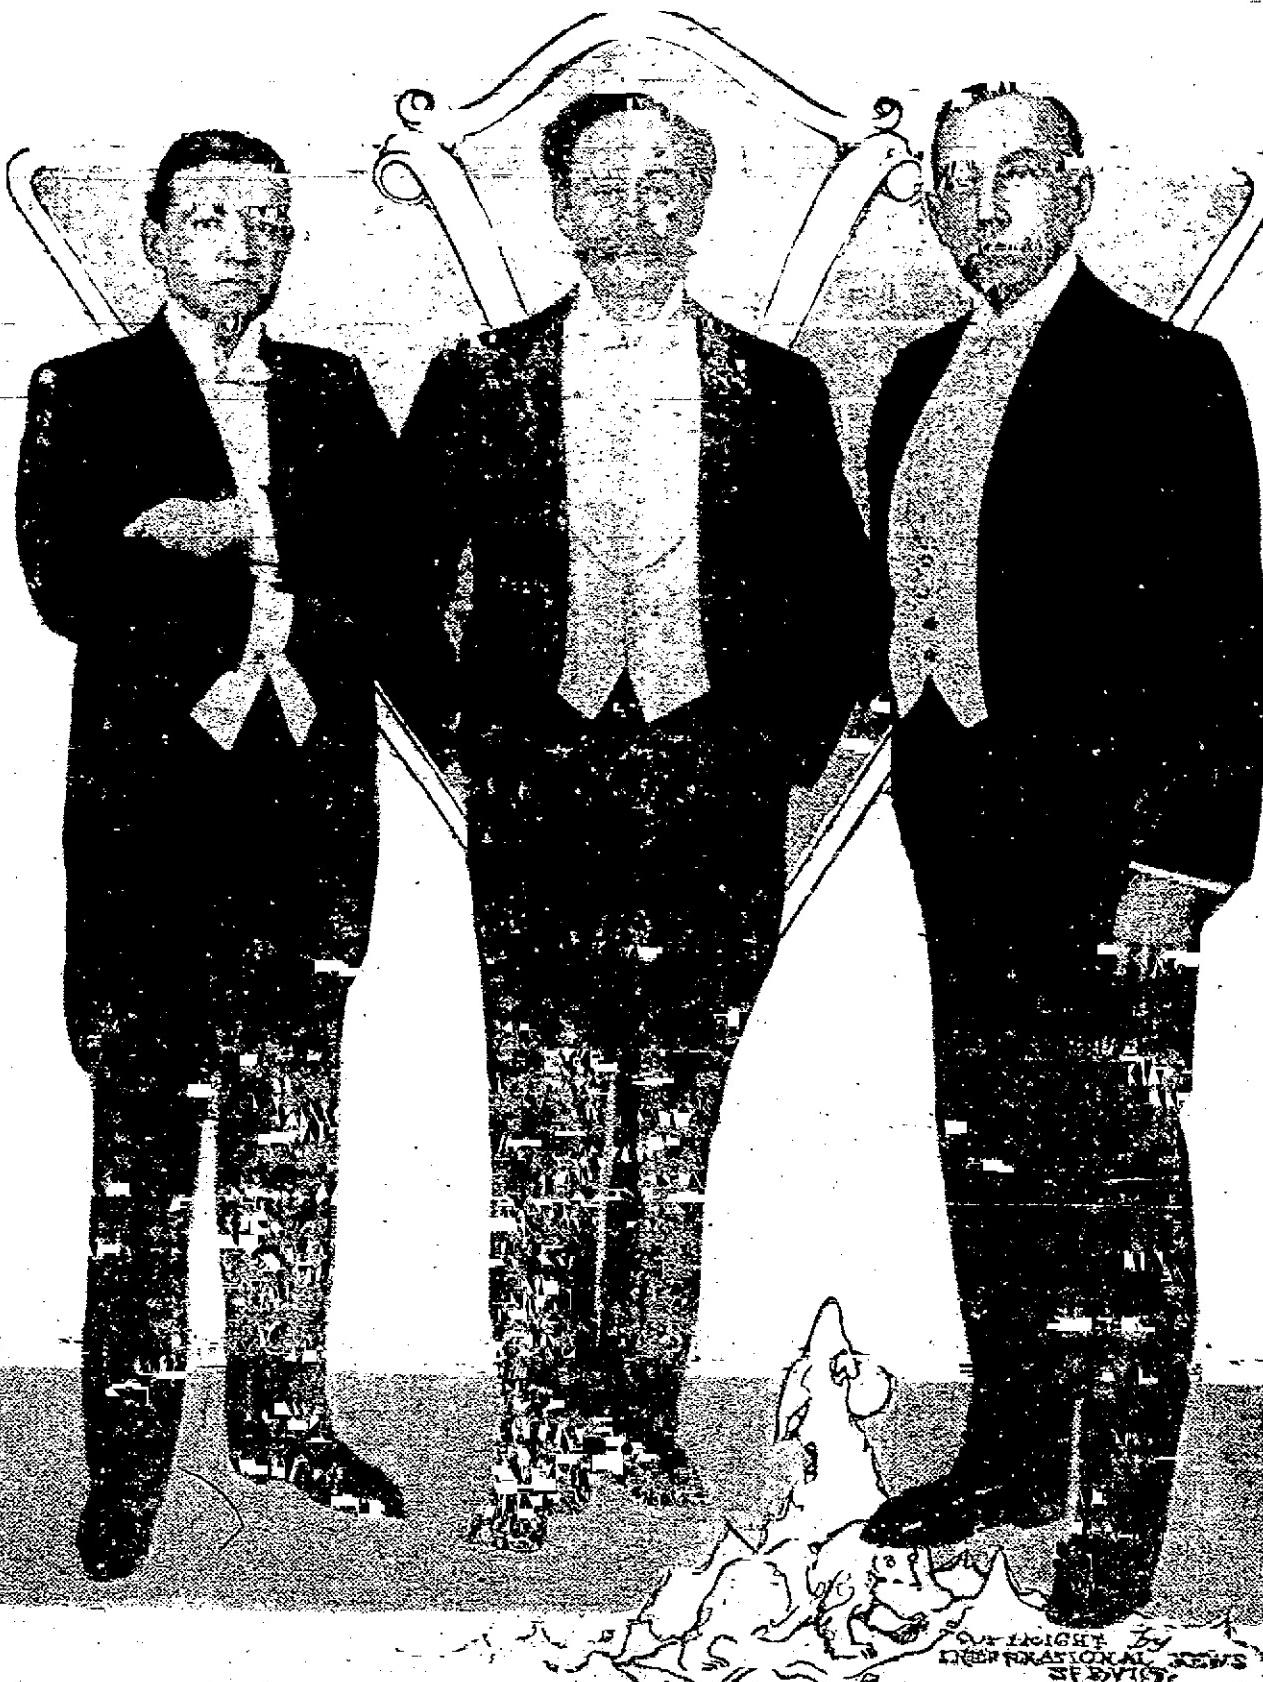

Those of the delegates who do not think it wise to wait longer, say they consider it a pity to let the present unique opportunity pass without giving Turkey a blow, taking advantage of the confusion ensuing by reason of the revolution in Constantinople.

As a whole, however, the allies intend, if possible, to wait for Turkey's reply to the powers, and if it is unsatisfactory to present an ultimatum to the Turkish delegates demanding a categorical answer concerning the disposition of Adrianople and the Aegean islands. Failing to obtain satisfaction, the armistice then will be denounced and hostilities resumed.

The Turkish delegation still was without instructions from Constantinople tonight. It finds itself in an embarrassing position as Rechad Pasha and Selim Bey are old Turks and Osman Nizami Paşa, the other delegate.

RAILWAY PASS PROBE CONTINUES; LIQUOR DEALER ADMITS HE WAS INFLUENCED

DENVER, Jan. 24.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Harlan is gathering what evidence he can against the alleged improprieties and combinations of telephone companies, in pursuance with the request from Attorney General Wickes that the interstate commerce commission hold an investigation in regard to the so-called telephone monopoly.

In today's hearing on the alleged illegal use of passes in Colorado, Commissioner Harlan took occasion to ask F. R. Strubry, one of the leading wholesale merchants of the city, if he had or is receiving telephone or telegraph franks. Mr. Strubry replied that he had not and is not receiving any gratis either from telephone or telegraph companies.

The investigation of the use of railroad passes in Colorado was confined to the examination of shippers, 25 of whom may be summoned before the commissioner. With but one exception the testimony went to show that the use of passes on the part of shippers did not influence them in any manner in regard to the routing of their interstate or local shipments.

No Emergency Exists.

Admits He Was Influenced.

A. Friedman, a wholesale liquor dealer, testified that he had been the recipient of railway passes, and that he certainly would be and had been influenced through receiving passes.

He said he considered it a courtesy on the part of railroads which should be returned by the shipper whenever possible.

A. S. Culberson, commercial agent of the Colorado & Southern road, said W. C. Skinner, commercial agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road, both of Pueblo, testified that the issuance of passes in Colorado was a matter of competition, and that they are forced to issue them because other roads do so.

Twenty-five more witnesses, shippers and railroad men have been subpoenaed for tomorrow's hearing.

PROGRESSIVE SENATOR IS ELECTED IN IDAHO

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 24.—James H. Brady, former governor, was elected United States senator for the short term to succeed the late Senator W. B. Heyburn, on the first ballot today.

Senator-elect Brady declared he would act with the Progressive Republicans in the United States senate.

McMillan left his home in Pueblo early yesterday morning, and shortly after 9 o'clock appeared at the Jackson ranch near Wigwam, 24 miles south of Colorado Springs. He is a brother-in-law of Lem Jackson, having married the latter's half-sister, Mrs. T. Jackson, in Washington, two years ago. When McMillan was denied admittance to the house by the women who were there alone, he broke down the door, it is said, and with his fists brutally attacked Mrs. Walter Jackson and a young woman who was visiting her.

Women Appeal to Sheriff.

They appealed to the sheriff's office in Colorado Springs and Deputy Sheriff Charles M. Hobbs hastened to the scene. He was met at the ranch by McMillan and a companion, both of whom pointed shotguns at him before the officer could cover them with his weapon, as they were in hiding when he drove into the yard.

They demanded that Deputy Hobbs procure a warrant before they would submit to arrest. The officer returned to Colorado Springs about noon, got the warrant and returned to the ranch with Constable Payton and W. D. Shewell. Deputy C. C. Birdsell joined the posse early in the evening.

When the officers arrived, McMillan and his companion had vanished, but were traced to the Denver & Rio Grande depot, where McMillan had secured a train for Pueblo. The posse went into Pueblo, and with the police of that city, traced McMillan to his home. They found the doors locked and curtains drawn, but McMillan had his shotgun pointed through a hole in the wall and he shouted out a threat that he would kill the first man who attempted to force an entrance.

Cause of Trouble Not Known.

No motive is assigned for the alleged assault on the women at the ranch.

Both were severely bruised, it is said, but neither seriously hurt. They were alone when McMillan appeared and demanded admittance, but they bolted the door to keep him out, as they were alone and were afraid of him.

Then, it is said, he broke down the door. He demanded an explanation from the women for their refusal to admit him, then he struck each down

Coming Attractions at the Local Theaters

"GYPSY LOVE"

"Gypsy Love" is now the reigning sensation in London, and from recent indications will continue to find Daly's theater in the British metropolis for many months to come. When the Franz Lehár comic opera is seen at the Grand Opera house, Tuesday evening next January 28, the Colorado Springs lovers of good music will agree with London theatregoers that it is one of the most fascinating and entrancing musical pieces ever in circulation in many a day. It will be real well-known, is the composer of "The Merry Widow" and "The Count of Luxembourg," but from a musical standpoint, "Love" is said to be, by far the best thing has ever written. Everywhere the critics have been with unqualified enthusiasm. A. J. Woods' production of the Lehár opera. The story of "Gypsy Love" is more interesting and better told than in most comic operas. Zorika, the heroine, is of a romantic disposition, and shortly before the date set for her marriage to Fedor, she decides to elope with Jozsi, a magnetic gypsy musician. Finding her dream, which constitutes the second act, she gets an indication of what would happen if she did such a thing, and in the last act, she returns to her lover.

Prominent in the large and splendid cast Manager Woods has given "Gypsy Love" are Arthur Albro, the Russian tenor, who was specially imported to create the role of Jozsi, the gypsy violinist. Albro is said to be as big a hit on the comic opera stage as Caruso in grand opera's Phyllis Partington, the California girl, down, has also achieved a triumph as Zorika. Miss Partington is beautiful and fascinating.

PHYLIS PARTINGTON AND ARTHUR ALBRO

In "Gypsy Love," at the Grand Opera House, Tuesday Evening, January 28, and possesses talent that is only seen in artists who graduate from grand opera. She plays and sings. Zorika well because she loves the part. The clever prima donna is not in the least a theatrical person. She is just as naturally pretty, brown-haired, brown-eyed girl from California, with frank, engaging expression, most unassuming, and so unaffectedly glad and enthusiastic that one would have to be a very grumpy bad-tempered mortal not to find one's self cheering up when you see her and hear her sing. With a large company of 80 people and an orchestra of 20, Miss Partington will make the big Woods-Lehar comic opera one of the important singing events of the year.

"THE BLUE BIRD" NEXT WEEK

Metterlinck's fantasy, "The Blue Bird," will be at the Grand Opera House Friday and Saturday of next week, January 31 and February 3, inclusive. The piece comes direct from France where solid success. In New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other neighboring centers. "The Blue Bird" begins with a transformation scene in which an irritable academic's home on the hills of Normandy becomes enchanted when little Tyltyl and his sister, Arty, are given the magic diamond hat. The lamp ascends into the ceiling and from the old oak work dance forth the "hours." "Light" in moon-colored robe of silver guaze appears out of the darkness and with her are "Dawn," in red dress and the trusty friend of man, and "Day," "mysterious," "Puss-in-Boots," and "Milk," "Bread," "Sugar," "Water" and "Fire." The fairies dance in the twilight, and they all set forth, led by kindly "Light" to find the blue bird for a little with next door, who is in for the bird in a chamber of love and happiness. Despite the plotting of the animals, who fear they will lose their souls if the blue bird is caught, they reach the "Land of Memory." From this shadowy realm they are whirled away in the darkness to the dread "Kingdom of the Past." Once again turns the magic diamond and the white gates open, but instead of shapes an afforeseen trell and there rises up like steam. Out of the

AT THE BURNS,

TUESDAY, JANUARY 28

Madame de Pasquali, nee James, was born in Boston and is a member of that chapter of the "Daughters of the American Revolution." Although she has achieved great success in the principal cities of Europe, Mexico and Cuba, her entire musical education was received in New York city.

When Marcella Sembrich said farewell to the operatic stage, Mme de Pasquali was chosen to sing the roles which this great artist had interpreted for a quarter of a century. This was not an easy task, but Mme de Pasquali's attainments were such as to enable her to sing in rapid succession, to the entire satisfaction and delight of the public, such roles as Violetta in coloratura soprano, during the seasons of 1910 and 1911, was a veritable triumph. It began in October on the Pacific coast, included a trip to Cuba to appear at a great patriotic concert at Havana, and ended in Seattle, Wash., in August, where Mme. de Pasquali was the leading soprano soloist of the Northern Pacific singerfest.

This season she will again sing at the Metropolitan Opera house in New York and will also be heard in a limited number of concerts, Denver and Colorado Springs being among the favored cities.

Mme. de Pasquali is not unknown at Denver. Her remarkable singing at the Denver Music festival of 1911 made that event the most brilliant in Denver's musical history. Will appear at the Burns on January 28, in concert at popular prices. It is hoped that it will receive the support it richly deserves.

The music-loving public will be pleased to learn that the accompanist for Mme. de Pasquali is Mr. Lawrence K. Whipple.

EMPEROR SHOW MAKES BIG HIT

Despite the handicap of the headline act being unable to appear, this week's show at the Emperor is the best in many weeks. The show, taken as a whole, is an excellent one, with plenty of laughs and other things that make the bill worth while. Paul Spadoni, the sensational strong man and weight juggler, could not appear on account of sickness. His place last night was taken by Keefer and Albert, a man and a woman who sing a few songs of typical vaudeville theme, with typical nasal vaudeville voices. One feels tempted to feel a little peevish with Mr. Spadoni in getting sick, but then it is not always possible on short notice to secure another headlining act.

Van and Carrie Avery, the former a side-splitting negro of formidable girth and full of fun, have a skit, "The Night Porter." It is funny and good and keeps the audience in one long roar of merriment. No better negro comedian has visited us since the days of Billy Van.

Roller skating is not now enjoying the vogue it did a few years ago but Collier and De Wolfe, who open the show, do some interesting fancy roller skating and work very smoothly with each other.

A xylophonist of dexterity is George

Travolta, Lucia in "Lucia di Lammermoor," Susanna in "Norze di Figaro," Rosina in "Barber of Seville," Norina in "Don Pasquale," Nedda in "Pagliacci," etc.

Mme. de Pasquali's voice possesses rare beauty of tone and she interprets her songs with great fitness and expression. Aside from her success on the operatic stage she has become popular as a concert artist.

In the second act Genee danced "Pas de Fascination," an exquisite dance, but the most beautiful and effective was Genee's final number, "Danse de Chasse"—(The Hunting Dance).

During her graceful performance there were expressions of approval such as "Great!" "Wonderful!" "Isn't she just lovely?"

From the New York World we also:

Somebody will have to amplify the adjective department of Webster's unabridged before it will be possible to describe one-half the dainty charm and grace of Genee—that amazing little ruff-ball of femininity who literally dances on thin air, who intoxicates the senses, and whose every performance would baffle Terpsichore herself.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Chairman Underwood of the house committee on ways and means, announced emphatically at the tariff hearing today that there was no intention of cutting the rates of duty so low along competitive lines as to ruin the business interests of the country.

He took exception to intimations he attributed to Republican members that the Democratic majority of the committee purposed to make rates that would disturb business prosperity.

"I deny that there is any such intention," he said, following remarks of Representative Payne, ranking Republican member of the committee.

BARRICADED IN HIS HOME, K. E. M'MILLAN THREATENS LIVES OF ARMED OFFICERS

Women Ask Protection From Colo. Springs and Deputies Are Rushed to Rescue

Barricaded in his home at Pueblo, where he sought refuge last night when driven to bay by a sheriff's posse from Colorado Springs and by the Pueblo police, and with a double-barreled shotgun leveled in defiance at the guard surrounding the house, K. E. McMillan, former postmaster at Amo, whom the authorities regard as a desperate character in view of his sensational exploits in El Paso, threats to shoot down the first officer who attempts to remove him. He had not surrendered up to 3 o'clock this Saturday morning.

INCOME TAX LEVY LAW

DENVER, Jan. 24.—The state supreme court today rendered the opinion that the law passed by the Fourteenth general assembly, levying a 2 per cent tax on the gross income from Colorado business to insurance companies, was proper and constitutional, and that the tax must be paid. The insurance companies have been paying the tax under protest since the bill was passed. The Colorado National Life Assurance company brought suit to avoid payment and the decision today is the outcome of the litigation.

Resolution Introduced in House Would Retain the Present Schedule

DENVER, Jan. 24.—A modified two-bit campaign fund bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator Carver. It provides that the state chairman of each political party shall receive from the state treasurer 20 cents for each vote cast by that party at the last state election to be used as a campaign fund. It further provides that no candidate shall contribute to the state committee more than 40 per cent of his first year's salary and that his total campaign expenditures shall not exceed 50 per cent of that salary. The Carver bill is intended to supplant the present "two-bit" law under which the state chairmen receive 25 cents for each party vote.

In opening deliberations in the house today Chaplain M. A. Head prayed that harmony might prevail and that factional strife might be overcome. Although he mentioned no names, members of the house expressed the belief that he referred to the contest among the Democratic members to enlarge the committee on rules.

Protective Tariff Resolution.
The house of representatives today adopted a resolution calling upon Colorado's congressional delegation to work and vote for the retention of a protective tariff on sugar, wool, lead, zinc and other Colorado products if products of other states are protected.

The resolution was introduced by Representatives Turnbull and Carrig, and was adopted without amendment, reading as follows:

"Be it resolved by the house of representatives, the senate concurring, that,

"Whereas, the people of this state and of the nation have at the polls expressed themselves for a downward revision of the tariff to the end that the cost of living may be reduced and the many abuses and iniquities of the present tariff corrected; and

"Whereas, Many of Colorado's products, zinc, lead, wool, sugar and many other products are now upon the list of protected industries, and an unfair or discriminating tariff reduction would work a serious hardship upon the industries of this state; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the house of representatives, the senate concurring, that the Nineteenth general assembly of Colorado expressed itself as being in hearty sympathy and accord with tariff revision, but is opposed to any material reduction in the present schedules which shall protect the products of other states at the expense of those of Colorado; that we believe the reductions should be as fair and equitable and thorough as may be, that the interest of this or any other state should not be discriminated against. And be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to our senators and representatives in congress, with the request that they shall protest against, and, if necessary, vote against any proposed tariff reductions which shall be unfair or unjust to the industries of Colorado."

It is believed that the new Turkish ministry will have as a supporter Herr von Jagow, the German minister of foreign affairs. In the Turco-Italian war von Jagow, as German ambassador to Italy, protected Turkish subjects there and energetically used his influence in an endeavor to induce Premier Giolitti to abandon the idea of protecting Italian sovereignty over Libya.

Sultan Unwillingly Gave In.
A dispatch from Constantinople to a news agency here says:

"It is learned on high authority that the Young Turk committee was well aware that the sultan unwillingly gave way to the resolve of Grand Vizier Käimil Pasha to release Adalianople. Young Turk officers who recently were received by the sultan left him with the impression that he would not object to a sudden change in the government.

"A pamphlet, obviously inspired, says the Young Turk committee has the means of liberating the sultan and saving the caliph from his endangered position."

"The blood of Nazim Pasha," said Rechad Pasha, leader of the Turkish peace delegates today, "is on the heads of the European powers. Their unfair attempt to force Turkey into the surrender of Adalianople has borne its inevitable fruit."

The Ottoman spokesman pointed out that only two of the European ambassadors in London know through experience what Turkey really is. These are Paul Cambon, French ambassador, and Marquis di Francaville, Italian ambassador. Both of these, according to the Turks, tried to dissuade their colleagues from driving the Turks to extremities.

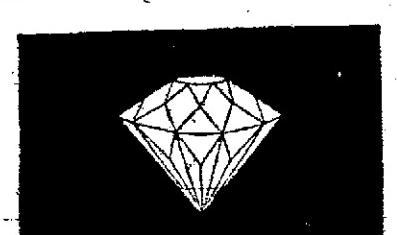

Ottoman Nazim Pasha declared:

"Now both the allies and the powers have had a taste of what Turkey is capable of doing, of what resistance she is able to offer, and what sacrifices she is ready to endure. Nothing is more dangerous than a wounded lion."

The research laboratory of The Swift Special Co. has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the appearance of indigestion, simple heat, etc., in the case. In some cases, astonishing rapidity often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope boldly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers, the famous S. S. S. may not be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone, as specific remedies for particular poisons. It is a true revolution in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, neuritis and similar diseases resulting from the use of minerals than from disease germs direct. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book by the medical department of The Swift Special Co., 327 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

INDEPENDENTS FORM TRUST, CLAIMS GOVT.

Probe of Moving Picture Business Is Continued Until February 5

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Counsel for the "moving picture" trust in the government's dissolution suit sought today, by examining a witness for the prosecution, to show that there exists a combination of independent film manufacturers as much a "trust" as that which the defendants, the Motion Picture Patents company and its affiliations, are charged with maintaining.

In reply to questions of George R. Willis, William W. Swanson, an independent film manufacturer of Chicago, named five independent film companies which formed the Universal Film company. "But we do not restrict our customers to buying only from us," he said.

"What was your principal reason for forming the Universal Film company?" asked counsel.

Refuses to Answer.

William Peiser, secretary of the Motion Picture Patents company, and the treasurer of the General Film company, also a defendant, refused to answer a question of government counsel as to the salary of Frank L. Dyer, a codefendant, who is president of the General Film company. The witness insisted the question was being asked for the purpose of supplying the head of a rival company with the information. He accused federal counsel of having been in conference with the rival.

Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant attorney general, denied the truth of the accusations. "And," he added, "I feel justified in consulting with any person who can give me any information of benefit to the people's cause."

The hearing will be resumed February 5.

MOVING PICTURES TELL OF BURGLAR AT HOME

BOONTON, N. J., Jan. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brewers were spectators at a moving picture show here last night. When one of the film dramatics was suddenly interrupted with these scribbled words on the screen:

"Herman Brewers wanted at home at once."

The message was a burglar alarm.

A 16-year-old daughter had been attacked by a burglar at the Brewers home, a mile distant, and her grandparents, who had found her unconscious and bleeding from a wound in the head, had telephoned to the theater, where the ravages of the insect were discovered. The department found the pest was appearing in numbers in the vicinity of the Tongue river. Indians were called upon, and brandishing axes in places of tomahawks, attacked the infected trees with such vigor that the invasion of the beetle enemy was checked. The cost of the incident was $903, while the department estimates that the stumpage value of the trees sacrificed will approximate $125,000. In addition, the parents were startled by the message.

Weather Bureau Issues Warning for Many Mississippi River Points

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 24.—Officials of the St. Francis levee board and of the United States engineers' office, whose jurisdiction extends along the Mississippi river from New Madrid, Mo., to the mouth of the White River, expressed the opinion today that the predicted 4-foot stage at Memphis would not seriously affect the levees in this district, and that even a 12-foot stage would not cause much damage. As a precautionary measure, however, patrols were established along the river banks today. The crest is expected to pass one within a week.

At Big Lake, in southeastern Mississipi, the water is running through a narrow gap in the levee, which was opened after a severe storm had been instrumental. A portion of New Madrid, Mo., is reported inundated and the greater part of West Hiawatha, Ky., flooded. At Paducah, "black water" is spreading over the lower section of the town. It was reported today that several houses had been drawn down by the lake, but this report had not been confirmed tonight.

Flood Warning Issued.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—As a result of the rains in the last 24 hours, according to the weather bureau, reaching a record stage in the Mississippi at Memphis within the next six or seven days now is guaranteed, with the possibility of a still higher stage. Helena, Ark., will have a stage exceeding 16 feet.

Winnipeg has the smaller rivers have been passed.

Representative Stanley of Kentucky introduced today a resolution authorizing the war department to expend $1,000,000 for food and subsistence for the sufferers from the floods in the Ohio Valley. It also authorizes the use of army tents.

River Rising at Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 24.—The Ohio river reached tonight a height of 48.4 feet and still is slowly rising.

A wide territory, both above and below Cairo, is inundated. Thousands of acres of wheat land are under water.

Water is pouring through the break in the levee at Drinkwater, Mo. A small increase in the flood at Bird's Point, Mo., will embarrass both the Cotton Belt and Iron Mountain railroads.

In a dispute over a settlement at Wigwam, about six months ago, McMillan fired upon a young man named Twiss; it is said, and chased him several miles. He also was acquitted of that charge. McMillan moved to Pueblo about a year ago.

W. L. JEWELL REARRESTED

W. L. Jewell of Victor, who had been held in the county jail for trial in the district court on charges of forgery, was released yesterday under bond. #### WAITERS WALK OUT; STREET RIOTS FOLLOW

Clash With Police Leads to Several Arrests; Many Arrested

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The strike of hotel employees spread today, and nearly one-quarter of the most important establishments were affected. It involved nearly 3,000 waiters, cooks and kitchen help here out.

The Hotel Workers union made its declaration of war this afternoon in a statement reciting that 20,000 employees will quit work within three days. The strikers ask for better sanitary conditions, better food for their personal use, abolition of tines, no discrimination against the union, increased wages and a reduction of hours.

Members of the Hotel Mens association declared that they would resign further demands, even if they had to quit the strikers' places with women and negroes.

Several Arrests Made.

Several arrests were made when union waiters interfered with the strike-breakers going to or from their work.

Several hundred strikers attacked two nonunion waiters outside the Hotel Astor tonight and seriously injured them before police dispersed the mob. Three men were arrested. The strikers marched to the Knickerbocker hotel and to Shandley's restaurant, making a demonstration in front of each. Another pitched battle with the police, in which 400 strikers were involved, ensued. Some of the strikers carried railroad spikes. A detective and several strikers were injured. The police arrested nine men while quelling this riot.

KILLED IN SNOWSLIDE

ST. ANTHONY, Idaho, Jan. 24.—With a tale of death and intense suffering, State Game Warden D. F. Hudson of Wyoming arrived here today from Jacksons Hole, Wyo. He was caught in a snowslide coming through Canon pass on a mail wagon. Owen Curtis, the youthful driver, and a horse were killed. The accident occurred in exactly the same spot where the boy's predecessor lost his life in a similar slide last year.

Warden Hudson said that they were caught in an avalanche of snow and ice that swept vehicle and all off the road, and down the mountainside into a creek. Hudson was buried beneath the slide, but managed to dig his way to the surface, and then started digging for Curtis. At last he uncovered the boy's feet, but his head was submerged in the creek and he had drowned before Hudson could drag him out.

Hudson was bruised in the snowslide and suffered intensely from the cold before he reached assistance. All wires are down into the Jacksons Hole country. After being cut off for a week, train service was resumed late yesterday. The body of the mail carrier killed last winter was not found until July.

Sentiment Divided on Question Public Utilities
Commission as Affecting Railroads

BY WALTER LAWSON WILDER

DENVER, Jan. 24.—The factional struggle between the moderate and ultra-mechanical Democrats in Denver over the question of whether or not an investigating committee should be organized to inquire into the public utility commission as it affects railroads and telephone companies has been transferred to the house representatives.

It appears in the Senate that the bill to create an investigating committee was introduced by Senator Weaver, of Colorado, and that the bill to create an investigating committee to inquire into the public utility commission as it affects railroads and telephone companies was introduced by Senator Hartman, of Colorado.

THE TWO-TERM BILL

DUE to the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for president of the United States there has been a perfect flood of anti-second and third term bills. Colorado is not immune. The fact that in this state the people are now—with the initiative, referendum and recall, the direct primary, civil service and the headless ballot—in full control of their government, and cannot be bossed, against their will, by any machine, would seem to indicate that no limitation upon official terms is needed here.

But some politicians do not concede that such is the case. Even in Colorado, where an official may be recalled at any time by the people who elected him, bills limiting the number of terms a man may hold office have been introduced. One of these is fathered by Senator W. C. Robinson of El Paso county. It provides that no state or county official shall be permitted to serve more than two terms.

Of what earthly use is such a bill, except to provide jobs for politicians by requiring rotation in office? What reason is there, for instance, for limiting to two terms the service of a man who has proved himself the right man for county clerk? Why should a county be compelled to turn out of office a man who has shown special adaptability as sheriff? Or, for that matter, if Colorado should happen to find a man so satisfactory to all people as governor that there should be a general demand for his retention in office, why should he be compelled to give way to some novice?

It used to be that such laws as this were justified to a certain extent by the fear that an official, if left long in office, would build up a machine. But that fear no longer holds. The people are protected against the building of a machine by the recall, by the direct primary and by the civil service law.

If the people are competent to govern themselves and The Gazette firmly believes they are, then the fewer the limitations placed upon the exercise of their will the better. There is absolutely no need for the passage either of Senator Robbins' two-term law or of any other such legislation.

If the two-term theory is correct, why exempt judges and members of the legislature from its operations? If gave them, in the past, shown themselves as conspicuously superior to state and county officers as to be placed in a class by themselves, exempted from the rules binding upon other officials?

MAKING PROGRESS

NO definite plan was decided upon at the meeting of the depot commission and representatives of the railroads. Probably no one was so optimistic as to hope for a definite plan from the first meeting. The question at issue was, however, thoroughly threshed out, and the railroad engineers will investigate the feasibility of the union depot proposition, from the railroad point of view.

Therefore the meeting may be said to have been productive of good. It is hardly likely that the people of Colorado Springs will be prepared to accept the decision of the railroads any more than the railroads would submit their case to the people. But all the data that is now being collected will be available later on, when the question of a union depot will probably be submitted, for final decision, to an impartial tribunal, such as the utilities commission, or the like. And both parties will be forced to abide the decision of that tribunal.

WHY FEAR THE LIGHT?

JUST why there should have been manifested such violent opposition to the proposed investigation of the affairs of the state insane asylum. The Gazette cannot imagine. Usually, such opposition is based on a desire to hide conditions that interested parties hope to keep from the public.

Another character of the men who, in the legislature, opposed the insane asylum investigation, only adds to the feeling that perhaps there is in Pueblo something hidden that should be revealed.

If conditions are as excellent as painted by the defenders of the present administration, would not an investigation simply advertise this fact to the entire state, and thereby enhance the reputations of those in charge? Then why should the supporters oppose an investigation?

The feeling that an investigation would do no harm is strengthened by the fact that the leading progressives, of all parties, including Speaker Skinner, voted for the investigation. In spite of this fact, members of the house who were elected by progressive votes did not make as good a record as they usually have done. Five of them voted against the investigation, six in favor and three were absent. The progressive line up was as follows:

AGAINST THE INVESTIGATION

Bingham of Lamar, Johnson of Colorado, Haskett of Delta, Knuth of Castle, Smith of Jefferson.

FOR THE INVESTIGATION

Craig of Lake, Newton of Mesa, Howell of Fremont, Shadley of Denver, Kennedy of Eagle.

ABSENT.

Many of Garfield, Persons of El Paso, Ridder of Arapahoe.

CANT ESCAPE THE INEVITABLE

It may be the "revolution" that has just taken place in Turkey is but one of the manifestations of wily Turkish diplomacy. It is hardly possible that the new administration can resist the peace demands of the allies any more successfully than the deposed government was able to do. It is doubtless patriotic to talk of going down in a general ruin rather than to abandon Adrianople. But it takes money to carry on war and Turkey has no money. Neither can it borrow any.

Turkey is held in such a relentless grip by the allies that it is impossible to see any way to end the war save by accepting the allies' terms. This, of course, is bitterly distasteful to Turkish pride. But it is Turkish pride—Turkish contempt for "the Christian dogs"—that has brought the Ottoman empire to its present fall. And Turkish pride, in all probability, will have to give way utterly and completely at all points before the Balkan allies.

LACKING IN ONE RESPECT

SENATOR BORAH has now been proposed as the right man to harmonize the Republican and Progressive parties. In most respects Senator Borah is a good Progressive. But he is, or was recently, opposed to the recall of judges and decisions. And it is a cardinal point in the Progressive belief that the courts must be made to express the will of the people. Therefore Senator Borah cannot well be accepted by Progressives as their ideal leader.

GROSS INJUSTICE

My experience during the passage of the state insurance legislation has persuaded me that one of the most gross pieces of injustice in public life is that women have no voice in the determination of matters which affect them more closely than men.

And therein David Lloyd-George epitomizes in a few words the whole case for woman suffrage.

LOOKS REASONABLE

If the railroads of Colorado were able in 1912 to earn money, in spite of the fact that 10 per cent. of their passenger traffic was carried free, does it not stand to reason that now, with passes abolished, passenger rates may be materially reduced without affecting the earnings of the roads?

LIKES ROBBINS' STAND.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

In an editorial in yesterday's paper, in speaking of the various dance hall conditions in Colorado Springs, the following sentences appear:

"In one respect the regulation of dances in Colorado Springs will prove very difficult. There are dance halls conveniently located in Colorado City, which, of course, no regulation by Colorado Springs can affect."

That portion of the statement referring to this city is absolutely false, which fact could have been learned by using the telephone. There has not been a public dance hall in this city for more than 15 years. It is difficult to understand why the Colorado Springs papers continue to slander this city. It could not be any worse than the Springs. The logical conclusion is that by dragging this city into every scandal occurring in that city attention may be diverted from conditions over there.

The Gazette is really sincere about clearing up immoral conditions in Colorado Springs, why does it not accept the offer of Mr. Robbins to have a thorough "housecleaning"? Why does it attack Robbins' hall and defend the Majestic, which is said to be just as bad? Why does it not join Mr. Robbins in investigating the El Paso club dance? I hear of the notorious conditions existing there long before hearing of Robbins' hall or the Majestic. Suits and jewels do not hide immorality any better than calico and rags. Booze and cigarettes are just as bad with the aristocrats as with the poor and workingmen.

I do not know Mr. Robbins, but admire the stand he has taken. I always like to see a staff called. I have no use for intoxicants of any kind, and believe all public dance halls are bad. I have no use for bogus reformers either, of which the country is full. But I do respect and admire real sincere reformers. Such stay out of politics and the business.

On account of bogus reformers, Colorado gets a new lot of preachers after every campaign.

Starting as reformers, they get into politics, and after election are "on their way."

THE PROBLEM OF THE PROSTITUTE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

A Gazette editorial, apropos of John D. Rockefellers J. J., purports to "eliminate white slavery" raises several important points:

First. The economic organization of society is incapable of providing living wages even for all classes who are anxious to work; how then, can it do provide for all workers of both sexes?

Second. Why should it be regarded as an exoneration for a woman to go into prostitution because of low wages, and not equally so for a youth to go into debauchery and crime with the same excuse?

Third. If many women can be held back from prostitution only through being "bought off" by somebody supplying the things they want, is virtue in such woman real, or only a pretense or a commodity? And are such women desirable as wives for any self-respecting men? Is it not better to eliminate such women from marriage altogether?

Fourth. Statistics appear to show that scarcely a fourth part of prostitutes go into it because of poverty or non-livable wages. The class, therefore, will never be eliminated by any aristocratic wages in industry, which, at best, could only afford less excuse for a fractional part of the women. Both past history in all countries and analysis of present facts prove this conclusively—all sentiment to the contrary.

Until these facts are adequately realized by reformers they are simply "talking in the air." Society is not yet conscious of the kind of problem, or the magnitude, of what it is attacking. Just as long as there is a nearly universal detestation among women of marrying "poor" men, we may expect to find numerous candidates for what you erroneously call "white slavery" because nine out of ten men are poor (under $1,000 per year wages or salary) and will be so until the end of time!

Let our reformers, then, begin at the right end of this problem.

THE UNION DEPOT CONFERENCE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Referring to the published reports of the Conference held yesterday between the railway officials and our local representatives, I fear that uninitiated and through the fault of no one the action and views of the depot commission have been misinterpreted or misunderstood.

In accordance with the call for a conference the commission sought to have a joint committee appointed representative of the railways and the community. Immediate action upon this was objected to by some of the railway officials on the ground that they were not sufficiently advised as to local conditions, and wished first to form their own committee, have the matter investigated from the stand-point of railway men, and, later, communicate with the union depot commission. This proposition was assented to.

It may be added, in behalf of the commission, that it was carefully organized for a specific purpose, and could not consistently discontinue its work except at the dictum of the civil authorities and the civic organization by whom it was constituted.

The Impossibility of Repeating

By RUTH CAMERON.

Have you ever noticed how impossible it is to repeat in this world?

We had a most delightful gathering the other evening. Half a dozen congenial people chanced to drop in, and the talk somehow turned to spiritualism and hypnotism and all the other fascinating "isms" of that twilight world where the known and the unknown meet.

We sat about the open fire, munching apples and nuts and comparing theories and experiences, swinging from laughter to awe and back again half a dozen times. The clock striking 11 found us firm in the belief that it could not yet be 10.

As the guests put on their wraps to depart, Mollie, the stenographer-lady, cried out to the hostess, "It's been such fun, let's do it again." May we all come again some evening soon, and have the apples and nuts and talk about exciting things the way we did tonight?

Having been granted the hostess' permission, Mollie appealed to the others to choose an evening when they could all come. An evening was duly chosen, each guest solemnly promised to come, and Mollie went away triumphant, assuring herself and everyone else that it would be "such fun to have it all over again just the same."

But all the time I knew it wouldn't be just the same because it never is, no matter how hard you try to make it.

And it wasn't.

When the appointed evening came, the jolliest guest was ill, and the best story-teller had been called off to town on business. Furthermore it was much too warm to really enjoy an open fire. Thirdly, an exciting event had occurred in our little circle of acquaintances and the talk clung persistently around that and refused to be led off, into the realms of the mystic. We sat uncomfortably about the fire for almost an hour like a spiritualist waiting rarely for his "control" until it was finally borne in, even upon Mollie, that things were not as they should be. The seance broke up in a jolly game of whist, capped with a midnight chafing-dish.

Even then, however, another three days must elapse before the expectant kroon is allowed to take possession. They are a long-suffering race, the Armenians.

BARNUM'S FIRST CIRCUS EXHIBIT

Joe Mitchell, Chaplin, in National Magazine.

P. T. Barnum launched his career in the show business by exhibiting a remarkable negro woman believed to be 100 years old, and said to have been a nurse to George Washington. An old bill of sale was exhibited, properly dated, according to the New York Tribune, 1816. The 100 years old, and evidence was also furnished that she was nurse to George Washington. Everything seemed so straightforward to the young man that he was eager to become the proprietor of this novel exhibition, which he purchased for $1,000, $600 of which he paid down, selling out his interest in the grocery business and the other $400 he borrowed. He saw that the thing to do was to make people talk and become curious and excited over rare spectacles. Regardless of expense he advertised in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, and the hall was thronged until Joyce Hart died.

Life is a kaleidoscope; each day is a turn that presents a new combination. All the king's horses and all the king's men cannot prevail to bring back a combination that has been destroyed.

So don't try to repeat. It doesn't pay, just enjoy each new combination to the fullest and let it go.

ROBERT BURNS

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Siwan."

This is the birthday of Robert Burns. Incidentally, it is the only day on which a Scotchman is dangerous. Those wishing to commit suicide without an effort to their part will do well to recite the poetry of Mr. Burns on January 26 in the presence of a Scotchman.

Some people write poetry because they have nothing else to do, and some because they can't do anything else. Burns was one of the latter kind. He was the son of a small farmer and began his career as a ploughboy soon after his birth in 1759. However, if he began to write poetry at a very early age.

When he had a love affair he memorialized it in verse.

agriculture in Scotland depended on Burns' efforts, the country would surely have become a desert. He was so poor as a farmer that it was decided to educate him instead. This was done, and Burns began to write poetry at a very early age.

RAILSBACK DECLARES STORY AN INJUSTICE

Yesterday afternoon former detective C. S. Railsbach called at the office of The Gazette and, pointing to his 10 years' service on the Colorado Springs police force, maintained that the account of his recent resignation did him an injustice. He admitted that the action that caused his resignation had been injudicious, but insisted that it had been magnified by gossip into something far different from the actual facts.

He said he resigned only because, with the present state of public feeling, to have fought the case would have brought undeserved censure upon Chief Burro and his associates in the department. Besides, he explained, he wished to save his wife and family from the misconception that might be placed upon his action.

To substantiate his story, Railsbach gave the names of all those present at the time it occurred. Each of these four persons was interviewed by a Gazette reporter, and gave facts substantially as related by Railsbach. They show a state of affairs very different from what rumor has alleged.

Railsbach states that he will not ask a public hearing, but only wishes to remove the construction that was in the absence of facts, placed upon his resignation.

Consideration of the resolution was deferred to the meeting next Wednesday. The resolution follows:

The Resolution.

Whereas, The council finds from an investigation made by it, at the request of the Civic League, of public dances held in the city, that conditions exist which make it necessary that some action be taken by the city to remove certain evils and abuses connected with such places of public entertainment, and

Whereas, The council further finds that the facilities and opportunities for pleasant, helpful recreation and amusement for the boys and girls and the young women of the city are insufficient and inadequate, and should be enlarged and improved; and that an earnest systematic effort should be made by the city to accomplish this purpose, and

Whereas, It will require careful investigation of existing conditions and a full inquiry into the methods pursued successfully by other cities before a comprehensive plan can be formulated and adopted by the council which will insure a betterment of the conditions and

Whereas, A permanent commission of representative citizens who have the welfare of the youth of the city at heart could greatly assist the council in determining what legislation and what action could be taken by it to the best advantage to secure more and better recreation and amusement for the youth of the city; therefore, be it

Duties Defined.

Resolved, By the city council of the city of Colorado Springs: That there be and there is hereby created a recreation and amusement commission in the city of Colorado Springs. It shall be the duty of said commission to study and consider all matters pertaining to the recreation and amusement of boys and girls and the youth of our city, and to earnestly endeavor to devise what measures the city can assist in providing these persons with the largest amount of clean, helpful, healthful recreation and amusement, and to report to the council from time to time such measures and recommendations as the commission considers should receive attention by or be acted upon by the council.

The commission shall consist of the chief of police of the city, the juvenile officer of El Paso county, and one member appointed by each of the organizations hereinafter named, and by other organizations as the council may hereafter designate, to-wit: Chamber of Commerce, Federated Trades council, Federated Brotherhoods, board of education, permanent Civic League, Women's Club, Playgrounds association, Associated Charities, El Paso County Medical association, Mother's Club, Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

It shall be the duty of each organization appointing a member of said commission to furnish the city clerk with the name and address of the person appointed and the date of the appointment, and the clerk shall call a meeting of said commission at a time and place to be fixed by him, as soon as he is informed that members have been appointed by a majority of said organizations. After which, called together by the clerk, the commission shall proceed in such manner as shall be determined by those present.

DYCUS TO DEMAND A PUBLIC HEARING

Patriotism is well known throughout the country, and it is demanded by the public that the commissioners of Public Safety from single men to the highest officials in the department be held responsible for their conduct.

It was learned yesterday morning that Commissioner Humebaugh met Dycus in Denver and asked for his resignation.

Whether the commissioner made any statement to Dycus, that he accepted his resignation, is not known.

It is leaked out that the officer refused to voluntarily sever his connection with the department.

It has been learned that Dycus has asked for a public hearing, as the charge of illegal conduct made against him were greatly exaggerated.

It is understood that if Mayor Avery orders the dismissed officer, the latter will not only demand a hearing as the charter provides, but that he will also insist upon an inquiry into the conduct of others in the department who thus have escaped publicity in the present probe.

The ability of former Governor Jennings as a land buyer was evidenced yesterday in the district court when he testified that, after R. J. Bolles had employed him to buy certain Florida lands at $2 an acre, he purchased hundreds of thousands of acres at $1.00 an acre.

He not only made his compensation of $75,000 out of the saving effected by his keen dealing, but also a surplus for

Bolles out of the original appropriation for the purchase. Mr. Jennings closed these deals while he was acting as resigned as its attorney and after his term as governor of Florida had ex-

Miss Partington herself is afraid of the worth of these pills, but her charm and her deep acting can never be given in any number of lines. When Miss Partington went to London this summer she gave the production of "Gipsy Love" in order to get a fresh point of view of her role of Zorina.

Take a brisk walk daily, brush the hair thoroughly, care for the nails, wash in a bath part, when I came east and sang for Shimer a short time, but the following summer I returned to California. There a New York manager put me in a task, but said that if I came to New York he would do a great deal for me. I came and he did—nothing! But all that time I was singing constantly. Ever since Victor Mauro heard my voice I have been studying under him every day. Oh, he has done so much for me—it lifted my voice right up and made it big enough for Mr. Woods to hear me. It gives me the part of Zorina.

Miss Partington herself is afraid of the worth of these pills, but her charm and her deep acting can never be given in any number of lines. When Miss Partington went to London this summer she gave the production of "Gipsy Love" in order to get a fresh point of view of her role of Zorina.

GENEVE IN THE HUNTING DANCE

In the completed program which has just been received for the Geneve performance there has been added the "Hunting Dance," which Miss Geneve gave on her first visit to this country. At the time of her appearance in New York in this dance the New York papers were more enthusiastic about this dance than about any other.

Renold Weil, wrote in the New York Telegraph:

"DANCE OF THE CHASE."

At moments her rapidly twirling toes seemed scarcely to touch the floor; she bounded through the air with small heed to the laws of gravity, and she was at all times a whirling, sinuous-winged object that flew and soared to reckless abandon.

On four dances the "Dance de Chasse," in which, attired in hunting costume, she told the story of a hunt, the best. Her triumph was instantaneous and overwhelming. If she remained for nine consecutive seasons at the Empire, London, she will go home here for winter.

The New York Times said of it:

"But perhaps the greatest hit score her by Geneve has been in her celebrated "Hunting Dance," in which this dainty little artist appears in hunting habit and enacts all the episodes of a day's hunt. Geneve was a success from the instant of her first appearance, and her first week in America has been a triumphant one."

Miss Geneve's "Dance de Chasse" is an exquisitely graceful dance, but the most beautiful and effective was Geneve's final number, "Dance de Chasse" (The Hunting dance).

During her greater performances there were expressions of approval such as "Great! Wonderful!" and "She is divine!"

From the New York World we copy:

"Somewhat must have to adjust to the demands of Webster's audience before it will be possible to describe a half the dainty charm and grace of Geneve that amazing little creature of ethereal beauty, who literally dances on thin air, who intoxicates the senses and whose every performance would baffle Tepechore herself."

This wondrous Zetrazzini of the Toe sent a great audience at the New York theater last night into a fit of apoplexy. Old timers who thought the piece was curiously translated. The English libretto of "Carmen" is ridiculous.

The trouble with the American adapters has been that the librettos have been very poorly translated. Finally Russia gave it a welcome, and from the one who appears to be

"the Blue Bird."

George Edwards and his son, and so impressed was he by her ability and her sweetness that he then and there offered her an engagement, and Miss Partington will sing Zorina in Daly's latest London next spring.

Miss Partington has not only big ambitions, but very decided ideals upon opera, and in speaking of it she says:

"Grand opera is merely a pantomime to nine-tenths of the audience, and it loses at least one-half its value. The libretto of an opera is as important as the music. The music merely illustrates the story. In fact, all the music must have a story, and the greater the story the better the music is to the original spectacular production from the New theater, New York, and the full strength of the company of 100 principals and auxiliaries. The history of the piece is curious. It had been published several years before a stage producer could be found. Finally Russia gave it a welcome, and from the one who appears to be

This city is at last to have an opportunity to view "The Blue Bird."

HAPPENINGS IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

According to telegraphic accounts, the charges concerning Thorpe's amateur standing are not likely to be sustained. Yet the incident, because of Thorpe's position in American athletics, brings out sharply the whole question of professionalism and of ineligibility to compete as an amateur.

In the beginning there was probably good reason for the rules as to amateur standing. But the playing of "ringers" has not been much at issue in recent years. The rules, instead of helping amateur athletics, now operate to harm them. From keeping professionals out of amateur competitions, they have come to exclude unjustly many of the amateurs themselves, and so conduct to mediocrity.

The daily attacks on courts of law because of the standing which they give to absurd technicalities apply as well to the boards that administer the present amateur rules in athletics. Their lines, too, have been drawn too tight.

The exact letter of a law may be broken without violating its spirit, and present day boards, who so often disregard in their work the spirit of the rules they are applying, could well afford to change several of their modes of procedure.

And in many cases, it seems, the charge of professionalism has been raised with little other object than to weaken an opposing team and so make victory more sure. This is one of the abuses which the too stringent enforcement of these rules has permitted to creep in. It is one of the things that a correct application of these rules should prevent, for there is no glory in defeating a team that the victor has helped to weaken before the games.

The Philadelphia Nationals have asked for waivers on R. Miller, the only fielder who was secured from the Boston Nationals in exchange for Tim. Last summer, Miller is a physician and has been playing ball as a side issue. As a member of the Boston team, he failed briefly and when the Quakers got him it was believed that the Beaneaters had received the worst of the deal. Miller, as a Philadelphia player soon fell off in his work, while possibly was the reason why Manager Doolin refused to waive claim on Mike Donlin. Oddly enough the Bostonians traded Donlin to Pittsburgh for Vincent Campbell last year, a transfer which first seemed to favor the Pirates. In view of the fact that W. H. Locke, the prospective buyer of the Philadelphia club, recently announced that Doolin would not be retained, it begins to look as if the Boston club showed wisdom in securing Campbell and Titus. Locke's opinion of Doolin is in direct opposition to that of Deems, which prompts the query: "Will Doolin have full sway when Locke becomes president of the club?"

August Breitmann, president of the Cincinnati club, has received permission from James E. Gaffney, owner of the Boston Nationals, to open negotiations with October John Kung, who managed the Beaneaters last season and still remains the property of that club.

MORE TRAINING GAMES SLATED FOR WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Manager of the Chicago White Sox, Frank Chance, has signed a contract with the Boston Red Sox for the coming season. Chance does not care about selling Kling's release to the Cleveland club if he can make a trade for several young players. At the same time, the Boston magnate will accept a reasonable sum for the catcher's services. In securing from Kling the eight to talk business with Kling, Herrmann reluctantly admits that he does not expect to land Roger Bresnahan. With Harry McLean already released to the St. Louis Cardinals, the Reds are in need of first-class catching material. Tinker has Tom Coughlin and Severiano, ordinary backstops, to fall upon, also two inexperienced youngsters in Chapman and Blackburn. Tinker thinks that Kling, who was his side partner with the Cubs up to the middle of the 1911 campaign, can be of great value to the Reds and admits that he will make strenuous efforts to sign him as soon as possible.

Kling has saved his money and is said to be well fixed. He received $7,000 from the Cubs for one season's work and drew nearly as much from the White Sox last year. Kling also caught fine ball for the Boston, but failed as the manager of the team and it was necessary to let him out for the sake of harmony when Gaffney engaged Stallings.

Magic.—The Wizards of the ancient days were men of wondrous skill. They waved their magic hands and pulled some clever stuff, but still The Peerless Leader has it on the alchemists of old. They handed him a demon and he turned it into gold.

Exchange.—Bob Nelson is calling on Bonesetter Reese to have his mitts repaired, said mitts having become cramped from hanging onto the banked.

Pongo Cantillon of the Minneapolis Millers is contemplating giving his team a grand shakeup for next season. He has lost a majority of his stars in the last two years he is afraid he can not land another pennant unless he mixes them up a little differently.

The Red Sox have signed Pitcher Martina from the Beaumont (Tex.) team. Martina would hardly be able to make good with the Cubs because of his name.

G. Lucy Crawford, one of the big fans of St. Louis, is spoken of as the next president of the Cardinals. J. C. Jones, the present head of the club, is ready to hand in his resignation just as soon as someone can be selected to fill the place.

Advice to Managers.—Tell us not in gloaming, manager. That your team is sure to conquer you are revealing in your slumber. Caused by lifting with the hand.

Entz.—Whatever may be said of Jess Willard, the fact remains that he still falls short of being a champion. He has not learned to punch a type-writer.

As we understand it, the lights are divided into two classes—those who break into vaudeville, and those who break into the police court.

Among other things Frank Chance is convinced that the noun "manager" is derived from the verb "to manage," the meaning of which is "to boss."

President Bob Hedges of the Browns hopes his team will have a much easier time drawing crowds in St. Louis now that Bremerman is gone. He congratulated Reyer after he had signed with the Cubs and said he wished him all kinds of luck in his new home.

Groves, Cleveland Alexander, famed pitcher of the Phillips, is running a pool hall in his home village of St. Paul, Neb. He is something of a pool shark himself, and wants to keep in practice through the long winter.

J. McGrail is right when he says a woman has no business trying to run a ball club. It is easier to run the man who runs said ball club.

It is said that Frank Natico hesitates to hand Ty Cobb a three-year contract, but we fail to see any cause for said hesitation. A baseball contract can be fractured in approximately 10 seconds.

QUESTION IS RAISED AS TO ELIGIBILITY OF JIM THORPE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Charges questioning the amateur standing of James Thorpe, the Indian athlete, and all round Olympic champion, were filed today with James E. Sullivan, secretary of the amateur union. The charges are important because, if sustained, they would destroy Thorpe's eligibility as an amateur when he won the pentathlon and decathlon contests in the Olympic games in Stockholm last summer and also would dispossess him as the American all-round champion, if he won here upon his return from Sweden.

The charges are based on the statement of Charles C. Clancy, manager of the Winston-Salem baseball team of the Carolina Association. Clancy is quoted as stating that the Indian pitched and played first base for the Winston-Salem club in 1910.

James E. Sullivan, chairman of the National Registration committee, said tonight:

"I don't believe there is any truth in the charges of professionalism against Thorpe. I have every confidence in his amateur standing."

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 24.—Glenn Warner, coach of the Carlisle Indian school athletes, received tonight a letter from Charles C. A. Clancy, manager of the Winston-Salem baseball team, in which Clancy denies making the statements attributed to him. He says that he knows absolutely nothing that would reflect on Thorpe's amateur standing.

COLORADO CITY LOSES TO BOYS CLUB, 26-12 CLABBY WINS OVER BAKER ON DECISION

DENVER, Jan. 24.—James Clabby of Milwaukee, 10,000 yards, and the Colorado City Boys Club, 10,000 yards, were defeated by the Colorado Springs Y. M. C. A. Juniors, 26-12. The Colorado city team made a much better showing. The Indians improved much since then under the direction of Coach Clappinger.

The Colorado City high will be as follows: Bost, right forward; Weeks, left forward; Divine, captain; Daniels, Jackson, left guard; Brown, right guard; and Morris and Thompson substitutes.

SPORTING NOTES

A tough Milwaukee has set three competing manufacturing motorcycle, the outfit from these factories in 1912 amounted to $4,660,000, an increase of 50 per cent over the output of 1911.

Over-the-road Big Motor cycle has already signed its first club for the coming season to take place on Easter Sunday.

The final meeting of this league is a contest between the Denver Athletic Club, Clabby, and the Denver Athletic Club, Clabby, in the first and second rounds. Baker wins to have made his right hand in the first and second rounds.

Clabby fought an aggressive battle throughout his career, bewildering the Coloradoan, who identified him self with offensive football after the first round.

The main event was preceded by two half-hour preliminaries. In the curtain raiser, Knie's Club of Denver and Kid Williams of New Mexico went six rounds to a draw.

George Paulding was awarded the decision over Young Eriksen, both Denver boxers. At the end of an eight-round bout, a capacity house witnessed the entertainment.

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO MARKET

NEW YORK Jan. 24.—The New York stock market ended in the general depression of the week's financial exchanges. Gold, silver and lead predominated in the market, while the market was dominated by grain, cottons and the settlement of foreign markets were reflected here in the lines among all classes of stocks, ranging in some cases to a point at the close of the day. American and London weakenings appeared before the opening here, and West Point gold had sharp reductions among the other metals. The long-term quotations generally offed in the days although in some instances well above the lowest figures.

A steady break in Illinois central which sent it down 6 points to 171, was another unsettling factor. The break gave rise to rumors concerning the stability of the market, although the market has been quiet for so much longer. Union Pacific, which had risen $22 since Illinois Central stock was up on the fear of a possible reduction of its revenue from the state, is now to have a recovery of more than half the gain.

Selling of stocks began in London with an influence in the decline. The heavy movement of gold continued today, more than $5,000,000 being withdrawn from the subtreasury for shipment to South America. Known movements of currency during the week indicate that the loss in gold has been more than offset by a limited receipt from the interior, a net gain of about $3,000,000 being forecast.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, per value, aggregated $10,000,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
